Plans for New School Taking Shape!

Crook County School District's Elementary School Design Team met and developed a basic site concept design for the new elementary school. BLRB Architects, the firm selected to design the building, facilitated the meeting. They were prepared with a large printout of the site and colored paper shapes representing major areas within the school that were sized to scale. The Design Team discussed many topics including space usage, flow of students between areas, security issues, and ways to promote community access.

The architects will be on site at each in-town elementary school during the week of November 18 – 22 to gather input from staff, students, families, and community members. The schedule is as follows:

Cecil Sly Elementary: Tonight!

- Monday, November 18th
